Law via the Internet Conference 2005

Free access has created a revolution in the provision of legal information for over a decade and this Conference will bring you up to date. The Pacific Islands Legal Information Institute (PacLII), in conjunction with the Australasian Legal Information Institute (AustLII), will host the 7th 'Law via the Internet' Conference on 17-19 November 2005 in Port Vila, Republic of Vanuatu.

13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28	29	30

Law via the Internet 2005 presents over 30 papers by speakers from many countries over two days. Session topics will range from issues of global access to law, to practical issues of court computerisation and legal knowledge management, to technical issues in improving the quality of caselaw and legislation, to the social and educational impacts of law on the internet. Full details of all papers to be presented at the Conference is available at www.paclii.org

Previous Law via the Internet Conferences have been held in Sydney (1997, 1999, 2001, 2003), Montreal (2002) and Paris (2004).

Please register now to avoid disappointment as previous 'Law via the Internet' Conferences have been very popular. The registration form can also be found at www.paclii.org/paclii/conference/2005/regofrom2005.html

Proceeds from the Conference will support provision of free access to law via the internet.

Conference Timetable

The conference proper will take place on 18-19 November 2005.

The annual meeting of legal information institutes and other participants in the Free Access to Law Movement will take place on 17 November 2005 (by invitation only – please contact Programme Chair if you are interested in attending).

Conference registration fees include morning tea, lunch and afternoon tea on the 18th and 19th November.

A Welcome Reception will take place in the University grounds at 5.30pm on 17th November and will include a Melanesian feast and cultural entertainment. Delegates will also be able to register for the conference. The conference dinner will take place on the evening of 18th November at "Tamanu on the Beach", a highly-acclaimed open-air restaurant.

Venue

The conference proper will be held at the Emalus Campus, University of the South Pacific, in beautiful Port Vila, the capital of Vanuatu.

Emalus Campus is located within the town limits of Port Vila. It is located on land owned by the people of Erakor. The Campus hosts between 700-1,000 students per semester. Port Vila itself is well known as a tourist destination and for its warm Melanesian hospitality.
